THE LGBT+ COMMUNITY IN POLAND

IS CONSTANTLY UNDER ATTACK

BARRED

Even a prison
looks beautiful in sunshine, framed at the river bend, light catching like ice on cold grey stone.

So alone, despite cell mate noises beside and across from me, I toss and turn on dank dirt floor. This place, is haunted by inmates gaunt and broken men with keys, as alike to us as rusting bars mirrored in each glassless window.

There is no roof so at least we have stars.
Venus, the brightest, red-tinged Mars and maybe that blinking one's the space station, stationed in our patch of black.

People died here,
finding despair too enveloping, a noose hanging from a beam, a muffled scream ricocheting off asbestos tiles, lost in enemy territory.

The people who minded us minded their own business, had to live, had families to feed despite war, had crops to plant despite jaw-aching cold, weren't bad people were just doing their job, just like we all would have had the tables turned.

Now the prison
imposes itself, walls us in in our minds, how blindly, willingly we concede freedom.
Eyes watch for dissenters, mouths call for enforcers, resorting to trial by social media, increasingly sure this is for the good of us all.

in the end it's not a joke

Democracy

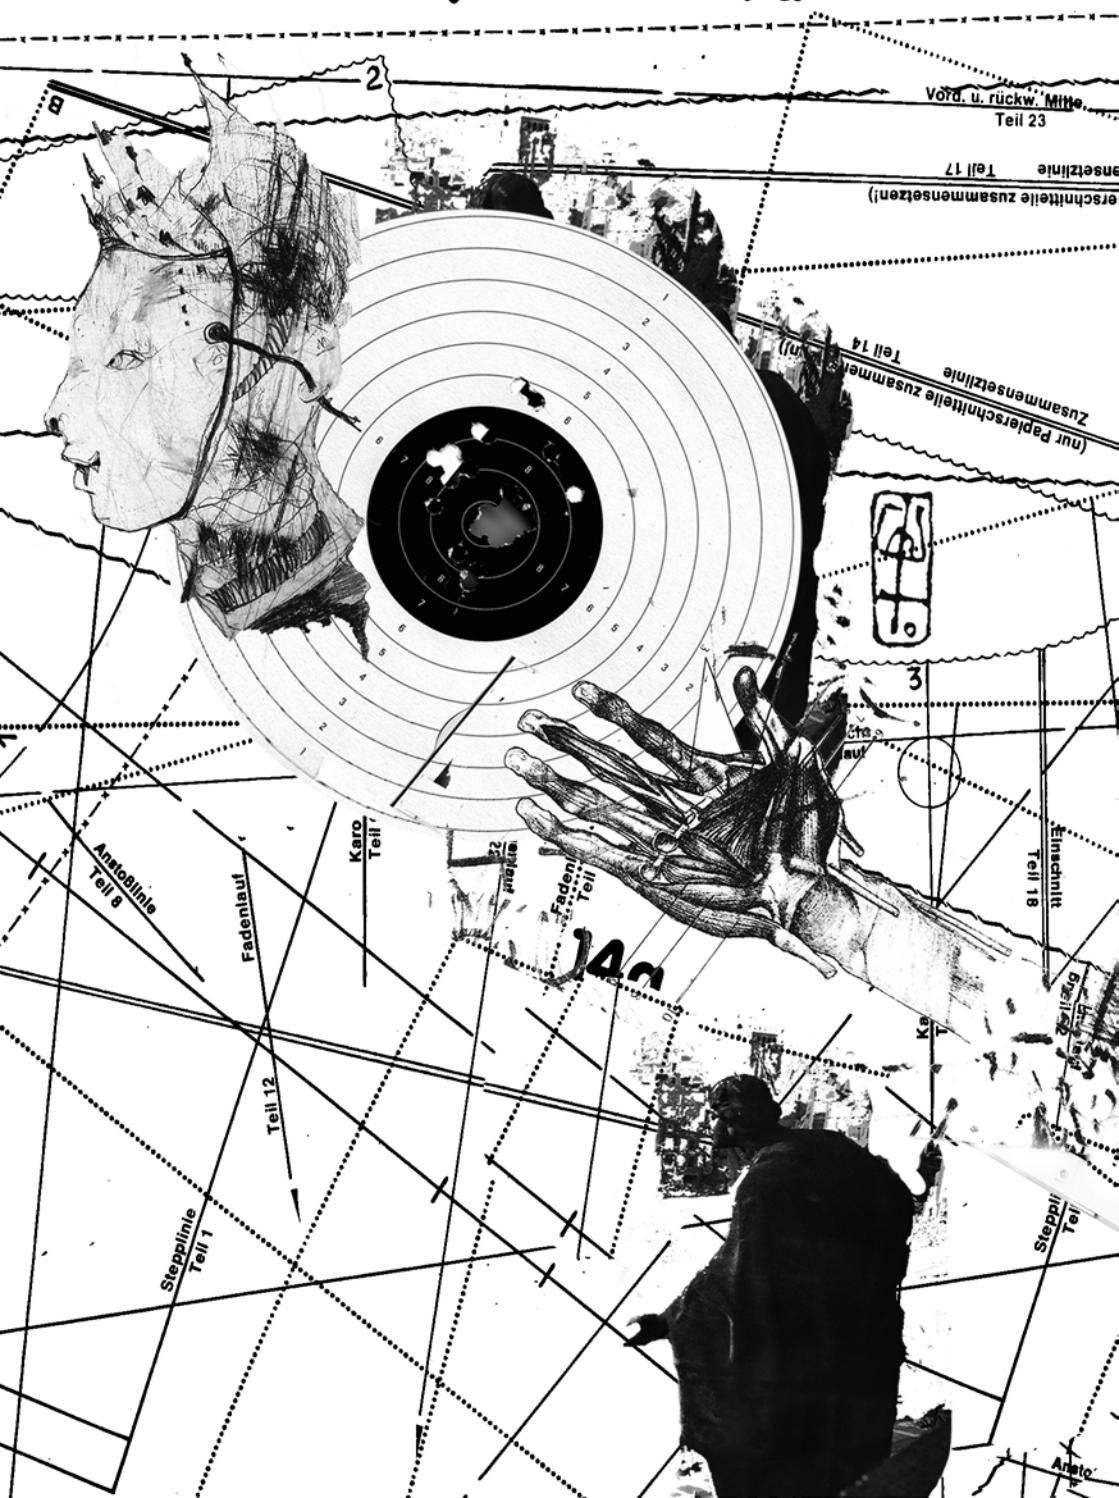

cracy that protects the rights of individuals, v. For other uses, see Democracy (disambiguation).

From the Greek: dēmokratia dēmokratia, "rule by [the] people." It is a form of government in which the people exercise the authority of government. What is done and how it is done are care issues that are central to government and community. People consider these issues in a free, open assembly and speak their minds. In a democracy, membership in the community is a right and minority rights are protected. Generally, there are two types of democracy: direct and representative. However, the noun "democracy" has, over time, been modified by more than 3,500 adjectives.

IECC adds "Union" back

An sudden announcement was made yesterday by Marian Z. Smith, Independent European Countries Coalition spokesman. It seems that after the 2020 EU (European Union) schism and separation, the IECC is again considering adding "Union" in its name in an effort to convince itself that it acts as one united force. After the big demonstrations of December 2021, the IECC countries collaboratively organized, implemented and enforced anti riot measures in more than 20 revolting countries. The new anti riot and riot control measures are aimed at maintaining the death toll under 50,000. This has been the biggest success of European countries collaboration since the "Barricade the Borders" action started in 2014, following the "Ban the illegals" publicity campaign. The success of this program has inspired various governments to considered the "Union" again and negotiations have again begun.
